IF YOU ARE REQUESTING A DATE PAST 45 DAYS FROM THE DATE OF ARRAIGNMENT, YOU MUST READ AND SIGN THE TIME WAIVER BELOW.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Section 1382 of the California Penal Code, you have a right to a speedy trial; meaning that your trial must begin within forty-five (45) days after your arraignment. If your trial does not begin within that time period, and good cause for the delay is not shown to the court, then the court must order your case dismissed. If you wish to have your trial set beyond the forty-five (45) day limit, you will be giving up your right to a speedy trial. If you do not want to give up this right, or do not sign this waiver, your request may not be granted due to time restraints within the forty-five (45) days.

I understand my right to a speedy trial as explained above; I wish to give up my right to a speedy trial and instead have my trial set on _____. I understand that my trial will be timely if held on this date. I declare, under penalty of perjury, under the Laws of the State of California, that the above representations are true and correct.
